Napa county's orchards and vineyards in 1927 produced $2,560,000 in agricultural wealth. This is according to a report just submitted to the board of supervisors by Horticultural Commissioner W. D. Butler.

Orange county grove owners are enthusiastic over the prospect of the 1928 crop of Valencia oranges. While none of the oranges are ripe at present, every indication has been given of a record crop.

The growing of "loco weed," night-mare of stockmen, is perfectly legal in California if the product is used for manufacturing purposes. Attorney General U. S. Wood ruled last week. Webb declared that a careful examination of the State poison act discloses no prohibitory clauses.

Citrus judging teams from the high schools of California have been invited to take part in a contest to be held at the San Bernardino Orange show this year. There will be Class A entries—students who have had more than one year of agricultural training—and Class B entries—those who have had less than a year's work. The contest will be in judging navels, lemons, grapefruit, and packed boxes.

The annual Picnic Day at the University Farm, Davis, will be held on April 21, according to Bailey Fairchild, chairman of the committee arranging for the event. High school judging teams, high school bands and other high school organizations will be invited by the University of California students at Davis to participate in the celebration.

The fourth session of the American Institute of Cooperation, the purpose of which is to further the cooperative marketing of agricultural products, will be held at the University of California this summer. The Institute will assemble in Los Angeles on July 9, will spend a week studying California cooperative associations, and then will go to Berkeley for three weeks of lectures and study.

Over $43,000,000 was added to Orange county's wealth as a result of its 1927 crop production. The returns from oranges and walnuts were the largest in the county's history—result of a happy combination of heavy production and satisfactory prices. The prices, it should be added, however, afford another demonstration of the effectiveness of farm co-operation, for 1927 would undoubtedly have netted the grower red ink instead of a satisfactory income had co-operative marketing not wisely directed the movement of the big crops in orderly fashion.

The California Fruit and Vegetable Standardization Act requires that avocados, before they are offered for sale, contain 8 per cent oil by chemical analysis. At this season of the year there are only a few varieties which will attain this required oil content. The following are some of the few varieties which can safely be purchased at this time: Fuertes, Puebla, Mexican Race (thin skin varieties) and Dorothias.

December just passed marked the close of one of the most successful years in the fruit and farming industries in the Lodi district for several years. One of the factors of the great success in the grape and fruit industry was the successful launching of the California Vineyard Association and its clearing house plan of distribution of the crop of fruit and vegetables. The individual profits of the past year were not the largest in some instances, but the fact that a much larger percentage of the growers shared in the profits gives the district a healthy and optimistic view of the opening of the new year when even a greater benefit is expected to a larger number of people.

Agricultural club work among the boys and girls of California, under the direction of the Agricultural Extension service, shows a gain of 44 per cent in income for 1927 over the preceding year, according to the annual report of activities just issued. There were 7300 boys and girls engaged in club projects last year, as compared with 5032 the year before, according to the report. There were 1028 agricultural clubs in forty-five counties of California in 1927, where there were 757 clubs in forty-four counties the preceding year.

Golden State News of Interest to All

Operating nineteen fish hatcheries, twenty egg-collecting stations and three experimental hatcheries, the State division of fish and game raised 30,766,900 young trout and salmon for distribution in the streams of the State during 1927, it was announced last week by the State department of natural resources.

The section of the California motor vehicle law fixing January 31 as the last day on which motor owners may obtain new licenses at the regular prices means just what it says, Frank G. Snook, chief of the motor vehicle department, announces. Snook has advised heads of all branch offices that no excuses are to be accepted from autoists asking licenses after that date. If they have not obtained plates before January 31, Snook says, their only recourse is to pay the double fee and go on their way as arguments will gain them nothing and will be a waste of their own time as well as that of the State's workers.

California is far ahead of all other States in the number of auto camps, according to a survey. There are in this State approximately 1,000 camps. The University of California has just been given two trust funds of $120,000 and $40,000 to provide for a professorship in law, and for scholarships for needy students. The gift was made by Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Flint of Los Angeles.

San Francisco representatives of the Red Cross will assemble at Sacramento to January 27 to present to the State government a Red Cross honor flag awarded California for having the largest number of Red Cross members in America, in proportion to population. The flag will be received by Governor C. C. Young.

Application to construct a power project on the American River in El Dorado and Placer counties, was made last week at Washington, to the federal power commission by W. J. Pre-wett, Auburn, California. The application calls for a dam 340 feet high across the north fork of the river, forming a reservoir with 600,000 acre feet capacity and a tunnel 5.4 miles long.

Work has commenced on the construction of the new $400,000 animal science building at the University of California College of Agriculture at Davis. The work is being done by the K. E. Parker Construction Company of San Francisco. It is to be of reinforced concrete with a stucco finish and three stories high. It is hoped to have the new structure completed by the end of the current fiscal year.

Bids on four new units at the Preston School of Industry and one at the Santa Barbara State Teachers' College, which will aggregate nearly $500,000, will be asked shortly by the State department of public works. Plans are now being completed by the division of architecture. The Preston projects include two new custodial buildings provided for by the 1925 legislature and a new school and a new hospital and receiving unit. These latter were provided for in the 1927 budget. The four buildings will cost in the neighborhood of $320,306. The Santa Barbara school unit will be a new home economics and science building costing approximately $165,000.

The highway commission last week announced it had set aside a sum of $2,500,000 from the estimated federal aid revenue for the biennium for convict work. Nine camps are tentatively proposed by the commission, three now being in active operation. Those camps now open are on the Trinity River lateral in northwestern Shasta County, on the Tahoe-Ukiah Highway in Lake County and the Yosemite Valley all-year road in Mariposa county. Other camps proposed for the current biennium are on the Red Bluff Susanville-Purdy lateral, the Redding-Alturas lateral, the Carmel-San Simeon Highway, the Kings River Highway, Ridge Route relocation in Los Angeles county and the Feather River lateral. This program would place between 800 and 1,200 convicts in the road camps.

An interesting comparison of the higher education in California with the cost of other government institutions was recently furnished by State Controller Ray L. Riley, in a statistical study of the increase in government cost. During a four year period ending in 1926, the percentage of increase in cost for the University of California was 16 per cent less than that for elementary schools, and 54 per cent less than for high schools. The University cost increased 15 per cent, the cost of penal institutions increased 37 per cent, administrative government costs increased 17 per cent, and regulatory government costs increased 36 per cent. Some organizations had smaller increases but did not show as great growth.

LOCAL CAGERS VS SAN JOSE TO-NIGHT

The Campbell High School basketball squads will face their traditional rivals, San Jose, in the high school gymnasium Friday night, where the annual "big game" between the two schools will be held. The 130-pound teams will open the evening's entertainment promptly at 7:30 o'clock. The last time these two schools clashed, Campbell suffered two defeats. However, Mr. Noddin is confident the boys will make a better showing this time.

The lightweight contest is the one around which the most interest is centered as the local lads are making a strong bid for the championship and are now tied for first place with Sequoia. With "Rowdy" Shanks back in the fold and "Red" McCoy, his able substitute, rarin' to go, the outlook is decidedly better.

The unlimited game should be a good one, for the Campbell boys are anxious to avenge their previous defeat. The Campbellites have one man on the casualty list, though, in the person of "Happy" Tainter, regular center, and this has somewhat dimmed the hopes of the Campbell rooters. If Tainter is not back, Austin Mamilton will probably fall heir to the position and he is quite capable of filling the gap.

A large crowd from San Jose is expected to invade Campbell to witness the games, so it will be necessary for the local supporters to arrive early if they desire seats.

Seven Wrecks On S. C. Road Last Friday

It was no easy driving over the Santa Cruz highway during the cold, frosty mornings of last week. There were a dozen or more accidents, but none of them serious enough to get in the newspapers. The highway was like a floor of ice, and the machines skidded in every direction. Friday morning, at Moody Gulch, four machines, within an hour, got tangled up and had to be towed back to Los Gatos for repairs. At Windy Point, a machine went down an embankment for 75 feet, but the driver escaped luckily without a scratch. And so it went all day.

Santa Cruz highway sadly needs the attention of the highway engineers. In the first place, it should be straightened out in numerous places. It has a great many more "kinks" than are necessary. Then the road ought to be widened to bring it up to standard gauge.

Senator Young Fetes Bldg. and Loan Men

Senator Sanborn Young had for guests Tuesday, Floyd Parton, and Dr. Charles A. Wayland, president, and vice-president respectively of the Reserve Building and Loan Association of which the senator is a director. The Reserve is one of the younger building and loan associations which has experienced gratifying growth.

From all indications business this year will be very good, and we are getting calls right along for money, by people who want to build," said Parton.

Voters Must Register For School Election

The following has been received from the Office of the County Superintendent of Schools:

The attention of all electors is respectfully called to the fact that at the election of School Trustees, which will occur on March 30, those desiring to cast their vote must be registered 30 days prior to the date of election. Two years ago much annoyance was caused by the inability of people to vote at the Trustees' election. As much publicity as possible should be given to this situation in order to avoid the confusion which arose two years ago.

Very truly yours,
Joseph E. Hancock,
County Supt. of Schools.

GRANGE OPPOSES BOX BILL

One hundred and twenty six Grangers attended the banquet at 6:30 Tuesday evening and enjoyed the beautiful work of the drill team which initiated the following people in the 3rd and 4th degrees: Mr. James McKinney, Mrs. Opal McKinney, Mr. Lloyd V. Gardiner, Mrs. Emily L. Gardiner, Mr. N. Barton, Mrs. Emma Barton, Mr. Philip S. La Barbera, Mrs. Josephine C. La Barbera, Mr. Harold C. Jepsen, Mrs. Hazel Jepsen and Mr. Albert R. Smith.

Mr. Houk, master of a grange in Pennsylvania, was present and shaking hands with California grangers.

Mr. Leroy Anderson presented a resolution asking Congress to appoint a committee to investigate the Mexican labor problem in the United States. He followed with a discussion of farm labor conditions, saying some 50,000 Mexicans came to the United States to assist in the harvesting of farm and orchard crops each year, many of these returning to Mexico after harvest was over. He thought if the larger part of these were prohibited from coming to this country, it would work a great hardship to the farmers and fruit growers, who depend largely on Mexican labor.

Several members contributed to the discussion. Some thought there were plenty of white people who could be gotten to do the work. While others thought if the Mexicans were shut out, the Southern part of the State would come north for their labor supply and that it would be almost impossible to procure labor to harvest the crops. The resolution calling for a thorough investigation of the whole subject was carried.

It was announced that Mr. Theron Tracy, one of the most eminent civil engineers in the whole country, would be present at the next meeting and discuss the port of San Jose project. This discussion will be open to the public, giving citizens of Campbell and vicinity an opportunity to listen to this noted authority the date is February 14th.

The lecturer announced that at the meeting of February 28, Mr. A. W. Martin an authority on poultry would speak before the grange. This address will also be open to the public, and poultrymen should make a note of the date.

GRAMMAR GRADUATION NEXT THURSDAY

Final examinations will be completed today at the local grammar school for the mid-year term and graduation exercises for the eighth grade will be held next Thursday evening. Superintendent Jos. E. Hancock will be the speaker of the hour and a class of 25 or more are expected to receive their certificates. Letters for the honor system will also be awarded at that time.

The eighth grade netted the sum of $30 from their paper drive last week. This will be used for class expenses.

A new special opportunity class will be begun the week following graduation with Mrs. Ruth Stuart as teacher.

Mrs. Wilson returned to her school duties this week after a week of absence due to illness.

Campbell Grammar quintet lost to Hester School this week.

Mesdames R. H. Shearer and F. V. Perrott, who are entertaining their friends at a series of afternoon parties, were hostesses again Friday. Three tables of bridge were played and dainty refreshments served. Violet and purple shades predominated in place and score cards with bowls of violets as center pieces.

CAMPBELL'S ANNUAL BANQUET ENJOYABLE OCCASION

Objectives for Year 1928 Outlined

The annual banquet of the Chamber of Commerce was held at the grammar cafeteria Friday evening. The tables were prettily decked in flowers and crepe streamers and a delightful Southern style dinner was furnished by the P. T. A. an deserved by Camp-fire Girls.

During the evening, various musical numbers were rendered. Miss Marion Jenkins and D. H. Cramer sang two pleasing duets, "A Little Old Garden" and "Friendship," accompanied by Miss Ethel Jenkins at the piano.

KIWANIANS HEAR DAIRY COW PRAISED

Sam Reed of the State agriculture department is an expert on the dairy cow and gave a most interesting talk on that class of domestic stock before Campbell Kiwanians Tuesday.

The dairy industry began in this country when cattle were imported from Europe with the second ship load to the New England Coast in 1621. The milk cow or goat was one of the first advancements for the human race from savagery toward civilization. Before the discovery of fire, milk was the first warm food of mankind. Milk is a great boon to the race, both from an economic and health point of view.

From the use of the cow began the development of agriculture when the nomadic tribes planted seeds to grow feed for their stock. Today, there are 22,000,000 dairy cattle in the United States producing two and a half billion dollars annually. The dairy cow of California is yielding one-fifth of the agricultural income and adding $200,000 in new money to California's wealth.

Mr. Reed stated that Santa Clara valley was much in need of more good dairies and that the best financial communities are dairy communities.

George Burrow, as chairman, ran true to form and produced many a silver coin from the deep crevices of harboring jeans. George is contemplating trading of his can-opener for a milk pail. Al Hubbard will address the diners on "Taxes" next week and Ben Curry, from a point of vantage, will put taxes on the diners.

WON AND LOST

Two Campbell High School quintets split a double-header with Palo Alto, here, last Friday night, winning the lightweight contest in an extra period and dropping the unlimited game 43 to 21.

The 130-pound teams put on the thriller of the evening and an extra period was necessary to decide the winner.

After getting off to a poor start the Campbell team's powerful offensive machine got under way and, although the half found them on the short end of an 11 to 6 count, the boys began to synchronize their play, gradually piling up the points separating them from their opponents, and with the closing minutes of the game drawing near, tallied the necessary points to snatch victory from defeat.

The sensational last minute rally was made possible by Coach Noddin's strategy; the latter had inserted "Red" McCoy into the fray at the crucial moment and the very capable redhead shot a goal from mid-court, thereby proving his reliability.

Martin Shaddle was high point man with 5 points.

Retiring President Guy Farley, as toastmaster, gave a word of welcome and a resume of the activities and accomplishments during the past year. Among them were the establishment of the policing service, garbage disposal, crossing safety signals and the hearty co-operation with the Santa Clara Consolidated, altogether a very successful year. A most enjoyable number was Campbell's new ladies' quartet, Mesdames R. H. Hyde, A. I. Cramer, W. C. Bohnett and D. H. Cramer, singing "I Want to go Down South Once More" and "Brownies." Mr. Benj. Edwards was at the piano.

Mr. Edwards, accompanied by Emily Pannell Gard, sang in his delightful baritone "Shepherd, see Thy Horse's Foaming Mane" and "Sylvia," he later sang "Song of a Heart," by Tunison, and a negro spiritual, "Don't Let Nobody Turn you' round," by Schaefer.

The objectives of the Chamber for the year 1928 were given by Harry C. Smith. In brief, they are, the hearty co-operation of town and country organizations for the common good; a continued growth of our postal business and service that has placed us in second class; continued interest and support of the "river park" project; co-operation with other groups to clear the indebtedness on our fine library and community building; to help put over the water conservation program; to secure a suitable auto camp for our community; to secure better railroad service; better attendance at regular chamber meetings.

The speaker of the evening, Frank Abernathy, certainly won a big spot in the hearts of those present by his fine talk on "Our Civic Duty."

There are two things that your chamber does not need: 1—Criticism; 2—Spectators.

Helpful suggestion (co-operation) is far better and more effective than criticism. The word "criticism" carries the wrong idea from the start.

No community is in need of spectators. The doers are always in demand and add much to the progress and wealth of any community. The one who gets into the game really reaps the joy of life.

Mr. Abernathy urged this chamber to join the California Development Association that is doing so much to build up the State in all sections. He also urged a strong stand against the Box bill limiting the immigration of Mexicans into this country. California would suffer great loss should this bill pass and become law as our fruit harvests could not be properly handled without help.

It is estimated that 8,500,000 women go out to work daily in the United States. Thirty years ago the number was 4,000,000. Thirty years from now the New York Times estimates there will be 16,000,000.

New York Evening Post: Archaeologist have discovered a loaf of bread 4000 years old in an Egyptian tomb, and now the problem is how to get it over here for restaurant pudding.

NEW IMMIGRATION BILL SHOULD BE DEFEATED

A bill is now before the House Immigration Committee of Congress, introduced by Representative Box of Texas, to place all of the countries of the Western hemisphere under the same immigration quota that was placed on other parts of the world by the Johnson act of 1924. If the Box bill became a law the number of Mexicans entering the United States annually would be reduced from some 50,000 to about 1600. They are employed chiefly on the farms, orchards and vineyards of the Pacific Southwest, traveling from section to section and remaining in each long enough to help harvest the crop of that section. No complete record is kept of those returning to Mexico at the end of the harvest season, but some estimates place the number as high as 80 per cent of those entering.

Following the theory upon which our immigration and exclusion laws have been enacted it would seem wise to apply the 1924 quota to Mexico, but practical difficulties arise. Agriculture has been dependent for several years upon Mexican labor supply and to cut it off immediately would cause tremendous loss to agriculture and thus to all the State.

If Mexicans are not admitted, there are two other possible sources from which labor would be brought—negroes from the South or from Porto Rico. Both would bring social problems equally, if not more serious than the Mexican. Since they are Americans, their coming cannot be prevented. If they become indigent or criminal, they cannot be deported. If the Mexican becomes indigent or criminal, he can be deported. Incidentally, the Mexican has proven to be a better laborer than negro.

The California Development Association has taken a reasonable view of the situation and is asking Congress to proceed with caution so as not to completely

PASSION PLAY TO BE REPRODUCED

SANTA CLARA, Jan. 27—With the completion of the gigantic cast of 135 players, rehearsals got under here today for "The Passion Play of Santa Clara," epochal drama to be presented by the University of Santa Clara, March 21 to 25, according to official announcement by Rev. Cornelius J. McCoy, S. J., president of the university.

Written by Clay M. Greene, famed actor, writer and critic of San Francisco, the "Passion Play" is one of the cherished traditions of Santa Clara. It was first presented in 1901 and was reproduced in 1903, 1907 and 1923. With the excellent directing of Edward Preston Murphy and with the addition of exceptional scenic and lighting effects, the 1928 production is expected to prove the finest ever presented.

The Santa Clara Passion Play has been acclaimed by eminent critics everywhere to be one of the most magnificent religious dramatic productions ever presented outside of the celebrated Passion Play at Oberammergau.

There are 35 principal characters in the play, including the Twelve Apostles. The character of Christ is not portrayed in the drama but is always suggested by a Divine Light. Because of the spirit of piety which prevades the production, the student-actors are approaching the work with appropriate spiritual preparation, similar to that of the actors of Oberammergau.

P. G. & E. CO. IN SALES CAMPAIGN

Announcement is made by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company of an aggressive sales campaign for the development of business to become effective immediately throughout the entire territory served by the company. The program, according to R. E. Fisher, vice-president in charge of public relations and sales, will involve an expenditure on the part of the company in excess of one million dollars. Over 300 salesmen will be employed in this campaign which will be the most extensive sales promotion program in the company's history.

"Electricity is Cheap—You can use it freely" will be the company's slogan for the year and will be based on the proposed slash in rates, which will result in a saving of approximately $1,750,000 to the company's consumers.

Execution of the sales program will be under the direction of H. M. Crawford, general sales manager, who states that particular stress will be laid on the development of additional business to offset the reduction in revenue due to the voluntary cut in rates to become effective about March 1, 1928.

He further states: "We hope to increase the consumption of electric energy by making it attractive for the consumers to use a greater quantity and thus balance the loss in revenue due to the reduction in rates by increased volume of consumption."

An extensive advertising program under the direction of J. Charles Jordan, publicity manager of the company, will support the sales program. Jordan states that the daily and weekly newspapers have been found to be the most satisfactory mediums for this type of work and that they will be used exclusively.

It is estimated that in addition to the actual expenditures for the specific sales activities of the company, another million dollars will be spent for labor, material and supplies, for lines and added facilities to take on this new business.

It is also estimated that 766 carloads of gas and electric consuming devices will be sold which will stimulate the sales for local dealers, resulting in a vast increase in business for all connected with the gas and electric industry.

Get License For Auto Before February First

Do not fail to make application at once for your automobile license plates. And you will pay double if you wait too long.

After midnight of Tuesday, January 31, the legal time for renewing licenses expires.

After that date the law requires Chief Snook not only to charge you double for your plates, but to take your car away from you if you are driving with 1927 plates.

If you own an ordinary passenger car that will mean you'll pay $6 instead of $3.

But if you own a commercial vehicle such as a truck, you will pay a great deal more. For some heavy types of trucks, you may pay as high as $86.

Don't Wait!
Put your check or money order or bank draft and your white certificate—after being sure that your present address is on the certificate—in an envelope and mail them to the Division of Motor Vehicles, Sacramento, Calif.
Do This Today!

Colusa county's almond crop for 1927 was worth more than $560,000, is the statement of Richard Watkins, horticultural inspector of Arbuckle.

Early estimates place the spring pea acreage in the Calipatria district of the Imperial Valley at 3000 acres this year, compared with 1700 acres last season. Shipments will start in February and continue until the last of March.

More than 200 cars of grapefruit will roll from Imperial Valley groves this season, according to present estimates. The Imperial Valley Citrus exchange has already shipped thirty-five cars, and other shippers are also active. Most of the grapefruit is graded and packed at Lamanda Park, where excellent storage facilities have been provided.

The year 1927 was the greatest in the 30 years of the history of the Ontario-Cucamonga Fruit Exchange, according to Harry B. Harlow, manager of the organization, who has just issued his annual report. During the season just closed, the exchange shipped 3078 cars of oranges and lemons, which yielded returns amounting to $4,333,240.22. The exchange was organized October 14, 1893, and has been in continuous operation since that time.

With cotton picking practically completed in the Corcoran district and only some bolls to be done, the yield will be approximately 8,200 bales. The acreage has been about 8,500 this year and the crop prices have been such that it is believed that the acreage will be materially increased next season.

A resume of the Redlands agricultural output for 1927 shows last year to have been one of the most productive in the history of the district. The citrus crop was the largest in local history, with more than 6000 cars packed and shipped. This does not include the several hundred cars of cull fruit used in the by-products plants. The crop brought to the growers of the district almost $10,000,000.

More than 13,000 farm homes in California were reached last year by the Home Demonstration Agents of the Agricultural Extension Service, University of California, according to the annual report of Prof. Harriet G. Eddy, state leader of home demonstration agents. In these homes 24,201 practices suggested by the home demonstration agents were put into use.

John Davis, county assessor for Modoc county, states that the number of sheep on the assessment rolls of the county increased 30,000 head last year. These were given an assessed

WILL ARREST OWNERS OF '27 TAGS ON FEB. 1

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 21.—(Special).—Declaring that every motorist in the State will have had ample opportunity to secure his plates, Frank G. Snook, chief of the division of motor vehicles, today announced his attention of instructing State traffic officers to seize every car in the State not displaying the blue and gold 1928 license plates immediately after the license renewal period closes January 31st.

Such car owners, said Snook, will not be permitted to use their cars until they have made application for plates or have shown sufficient evidence that they have done so. They will also be compelled to pay an amount equal to double the regular license fee as a delinquent charge. This is a provision of the law.

valuation of $5 per head, resulting in an addition of $150,000 taxable property to the rolls. These sheep are the property of transient shepherms who range their sheep on Modoc county ranges during the summer season. The personal property taxes due on these herds are collected by the assessor's office direct.

The agricultural industry in Santa Barbara county has closed its most successful year in history, with an average increase of 20 per cent in all crops over the previous year, according to Eugene S. Kellogg, county horticultural commissioner. Vegetable shipments from the county, Mr. Kellogg reported, totaled 6161 cars during 1927, representing a return of $3,431,288, as compared with a total of 4778 cars shipped during the previous year, with a return value to the district of $1,276,361.

Beginning with the 1928 spring season, an increase in grazing fees now in effect will be charged for the running of livestock in the national forests of California, according to announcement by S. B. Shaw, chief of the California District, United States Forest Service. A like increase will be made each year until 1931, or until the present fees reach the maximum of from 15 to 19 cents per head per month for cattle, and from 4 1/2 to 6 cents per head per month for sheep. This maximum rate will then be applied from 1931 to 1934, and will continue for the 10-year period existing at that time which affect the equitable determination of fair compensation for the use of government ranges.

With the view of finding a new market outlet for California pears, the University of California College of Agriculture has started an extensive study of the pear situation, under the supervision of marketing experts. The situation of the pear and canning peach growers in 1927 is but a reminder of that of the raisin growers several years ago, it is announced, and a provision of what may occur in the near future with pears, figs and possibly other California fruits, if the acreage is not yet in bearing, is a fair indication.

Fig men interested in disease prevention and cure will welcome a new circular, No. 311, just issued by the University of California College of Agriculture, entitled The Improvement of Quality in Figs, Professor Ralph E. Smith and H. N. Hansen. The half-tone plates show figs affected with the more important pests, and will aid in identifying troubles experienced with the crop. Another bulletin just issued is No. 440, The Feeding Value of Raisins and Dried By-Products And Fattening Swine. This is by Professor E. H. Hughes.

Los Gatos Warm After Winter In Minnesota

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Holden of Foston, Minn., arrived here last Thursday to spend the rest of the winter. They are residing with Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Waite on Beck avenue until they can get possession of their home, which happens to be rented. The Holdens were here three years ago for the winter, and they are expecting in the near future to make Los Gatos their permanent abode.

"Minnesota is having a very cold winter. It was way below zero when we left home, and there was no sign of a let up. It surely seems good to get out here in this semi-tropical country and thaw out. We do appreciate it."

"Times are not as bad in Minnesota as they have been," remarked Mr. Holden, who is a hardware merchant, yesterday. "We can see a change there for the better. Times have been tough, and we have had our share of bank failures, but we think we have passed the peak of our panic if you want to call it such."—Mail-News.

The total population of the Russian Soviet territories is officially announced as 146,200,000.

"An English bookseller, when examining his stock, made certain classifications for a trade list which he had printed. One of these was 'Novelists who ought to sell better.' It appeared in print, Novelists Who Ought to Sell Better.

The telephone rang. Little Harry James went to answer. A man at the other end wanted Father. Upon being told he was not in, he asked to whom he was speaking to. Harry James answered: "This is the son of my father speaking."—Chicago Tribune.

A Methodist leader says: "There are broken men enough in the church, to last a hundred years if we never received another one. They are the men who are afraid that the church will go too fast. What we want is more firemen."

George A. Birmingham, writing of a visit to a girls' school, has to contain his enthusiasm. "The girls, I admit, look angels, but almost any girl looks like an angel if you put a white frock on her and make her sit still. My reason tells me that there cannot really be a hundred angel girls in one small town."

"Marie and I agreed that after we were married I should decide all major questions and she would decide the small ones."

"How has it worked out?"
"We have been married three years, and I am grateful to say there has been no major questions."
—Christian Science Monitor.

A timekeeper of a negro extra gang asked a new hand his name.

"George Washington, suh," replied the new man.

"You're not the man who cut down the cherry tree, are you?" joked the timekeeper.

"No, suh. This is the first work I've done in over a year."
